MARTIAL ARTS DEFINED:

Martial arts means, any system of fighting that would teach the person self defense individually or by means of sparring with others. The use of weapons is to be used only on an individual basis or in the case of two individuals the use would instructional only.

Safe weapons "A" would be normally made from rubber, foam, plastic or wood. Authorized for kuta or instructional use only.

Safe weapons "B" would be none live blades with no sharp edges. Authorized in Blake Belt kuta & demonstrations only. Minimum of 2 spotters must be present.

Not Safe Weapons "C" would be any sharp edge or point.

SPARRING DEFINED:

Sparring is where two or more individuals practice techniques of the martial arts discipline they have been practicing using any body part or weapon

Sparring "A" is controlled sparring. This is practiced by the point system where once one individual makes contact with their opponent they score a point and both separate. This will continue until one of the opponents reaches a predetermined point score. This method is controlled and meant as a teach technique and not to harm another. Safe weapons "A" may be used under supervision.

Sparring "B" is free sparring. This is where two or more opponents fight for timed bouts, usually 5 minutes. This method is full contact strike to each other with the usual intension of a knockout or submission.
